INTRODUCTION

WELCOME

Congratulations!

If you are recently engaged your head is probably already spinning with ideas, to do lists and the long list of recommendations from friends and family about your big day. If you have not yet started thinking about your Honeymoon, we recommend you do that as soon as possible! The surge in travel this past year has been exciting but also created many challenges for airlines, hotels and transportation companies who have struggled to hire and train fast enough to cover the demand. The good news is that with early planning you can get the dream destination you are looking for and they will be waiting with open arms.

We're here for you,

Tiffany Hines

TIP ONE

GO BIG!

Go BIG and stay as long as you can.

There is never a better time or excuse to make a bucket list adventure than for your very own honeymoon.

This is something you will never regret.

TIP TWO

DO NEW!

Pick a destination that is new for the both of you.

This is a very memorable time in your life, start it with a honeymoon that offers a new experience for you to share.

3 TIP THREE TAKE TIME!

Don't rush into a memory
that's meant to last forever.

Consider taking a few days or longer between the wedding and departing for your Honeymoon.

This will allow you ample time to focus on each event and will most certainly eliminate some of your “week of” stress.

4 TIP FOUR DOWNTIME!

Make sure to plan enough time to relax!

Being active is great, but if you are traveling on the heels of “I do’s”, you are going to need
planning a wedding is months of work and stress.

TIP FIVE

DESTINATION!

Beware of travel suggestions from friends and family.

Many of these will come unsolicited, so just smile and thank everyone for the advice. The people closest to you have great intentions, they want to help you, but they are trying to solve your problem with their preferences.

TIP SIX

GET THE PROS!

Consider hiring a professional travel advisor.

You will likely make a significant investment in this vacation, make sure you spend your time and money wisely by hiring a professional to make sure you get the experience you want. A good advisor will take the time to understand your preferences and make sure you are happy!
